PRESENTACIÓN Y CONTEXTUALIZACIÓN

The purpose of this course is to update the student's knowledge regarding the use of the web in teaching foreign languages and other related applications such as information retrieval, digital literacy, or language research. If at first, language teachers and linguists made an entirely passive use of the Internet, nowadays, this resource has become an active channel to encourage students and promote the interaction among students. By the end of this course, students will have acquired all the contents proposed through a wide range of activities related to every single aspect. Hence, interaction, collaboration, and critical thinking skills will be crucial to enjoying and pass this course successfully. Since technology advances very quickly, we will present new tools and techniques to teach or process language if it is considered necessary.

REQUISITOS Y/O RECOMENDACIONES PARA CURSAR ESTA ASIGNATURA
